They Call It Home . . .

The 366 units of the university housing center, commonly termed the strip houses, spread out just off South avenue on Missoula's southern fringe. Originally constructed for veteran students and their families, the units now house many non-vet university families.

U.N. Divisions Move Into Communist Line

Tokyo, Feb. 22.—(P)—American troops are making history on a hilltop in Korea tonight.

After two days of a new offensive ordered by General MacArthur, allied forces are about to crash the middle of a new 60-mile enemy defense line on the central front. Soldiers of our Yank divisions and six other United Nations moved forward up to 12 miles over muddy mountain trails to get into position for the new clash. They were following up the Communist retreat from the enemy's own 10-day offensive that failed this week.

Commissioner To Address Spring Grads

Earl J. McGrath, United States commissioner of education, will be commencement speaker at MSU's 1951 graduation exercises June 4.

The university, on recommendation of the faculty and authorization by the state board of education, will confer an honorary doctor of laws degree upon him.

A leading figure in the development of general education, Dr. McGrath was appointed to the top federal education post two years ago, and was then named to the United States national commission for UNESCO. Now a member of the Fulbright board for foreign scholarships, Dr. McGrath was a member of the President's commission on higher education in 1946 and 1947.

Dr. McGrath has both a B.A. and an M.A. from the University of Buffalo. He received his doctorate at the University of Chicago. His career in education covers almost a quarter century, having held important teaching and administrative positions in the nation's leading universities. He is co-author of books on general education, and was editor from 1946 to 1947, of the Journal of General Education.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—(P)—Chinese Communist Deputy Premier Kuo Mo Jo says the United Nations "closed the door" to a peaceful settlement in Korea when it branded Red China an aggressor.

Speaking in Berlin, Kuo called upon a meeting of the Communist-sponsored "World Peace Council" to "condemn" the UN resolution against China and demand its immediate retraction.

STABILIZER KEEPS MUM

Washington, Feb. 22.—(P)—Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston has ended three days of conferences with labor leaders in Washington. Johnston gives no hint whether he will bow to labor's demand for modification of the proposed 10 per cent wage ceiling formula.

Concert Program Bills Vick, Violin

The University Symphony orchestra will present a concert Sunday in the Student Union auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Madison Vick, Missoula, will be featured as the violin soloist in Concerto for Violin in G Minor, Opus 26 by Bruch.

Vick studied violin with his father, and later studied with Prof. A. H. Weisburg. He is now studying under Asst. Prof. Eugene Andrie, of the music school. Vick was the concert master of the orchestra when the music school presented "The Barber of Seville" last spring.

The symphony program also includes: Overture to The Shepherd King by Mozart; Second Rumanian Rhapsody, Opus 11, No. 2 by Enesco; Port Royal, 1861, Suite for String by McKay; Fanfare from La Pe'tri by Dukas; and Symphony No. 4 in G Major, Opus 88 by Dvorak.

MSU Students Go to Butte

About twenty-five Methodist students will leave here today for Butte to attend a state Methodist Student Movement conference.

The theme of the conference will be civil defense with emphasis on physical and spiritual development as the basis for true defense. "From Defense to Advise" will be the motto of the conference.

Nearly eighty students from Montana schools will attend the meet. Among the delegates from MSU is Phyllis Clark, Petaluma, Calif., state secretary of the Methodist student organization. Peggy Ely, Missoula, state president, will not be able to attend the meet because of illness.

Book Collection To Start Tuesday

The World Student Service fund's book collection drive has been set for 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday. The Bear Paws will make the rounds of the dormitories, strip-houses, fraternities, and sororities, collecting books for European and Asiatic universities.

Any type of book may be contributed. Those not suitable for sending directly to universities abroad will be sold, and the money derived from their sale will be used to buy more books and equipment.

Medieval Metal, Mining Book On Display in University Library

"De Re Metallica," a medieval textbook on the mining and metallurgic professions, is on display in the university library reading room, Miss Kathleen Campbell, librarian, said.

The book was a gift of the library from Herbert C. Hoover, ex-president of the United States, made possible through the efforts of Mrs. Hazel Lyman Nickel, a graduate of MSU. Mrs. Nickel is now assistant curator of the Herbert Hoover archives in the Hoover Library on War, Revolution, and Peace at Stanford university.

Published in 1556

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover successfully translated this medieval Latin textbook, published in 1556, after five years of research into ancient mining and metallurgical processes as well as the literature written at the time this book was written. The Hoovers also made trips to mines throughout the world.

While a student at Stanford university from 1891 to 1895 Hoover became interested in this Latin text which was in the private library of Dr. John C. Branner, at that time head of the geology and mining department at Stanford. In 1907 the Hoovers started the translation. The translated volume was

MSU Plays Landlord For Student Families

BY DICK WOHLGENANT

The University is in the family housing business to the extent of 366 strip house units.

In the strip house project located along South avenue east, 334 units are reserved for veteran students and the other 32 are open for non-student veterans.

Married student veterans may be able to obtain a unit in the no-bedroom class, which rents for $17 a month but non-student veterans looking for a place to hang their hats in the housing project are out of luck. There is a long waiting list for the 32 units available for them.

Just recently the University received 50 additional units, formerly operated by the local chamber of commerce, which brought the number of housing units up to the present figure. And acting director of the strip project, Gordon Hamilton, points out that the project may become increasingly valuable to the University if increased mobilization programs are effected on campus.

The units, set up only as temporary emergency housing by the Federal Public Housing administration in 1946, may have to serve duty much longer than that for which they were intended.

However, Director Hamilton (please see page six)

Law Students Lead Violators

Law students commit the most parking violations at MSU, according to Mrs. Esther Smith, secretary to T. G. Swearingen, maintenance engineer.

Up to Thursday noon, 678 tickets have been posted on cars for parking violations under the car-registration plan. Of these 678 tickets, only six have been posted on registered cars. The rest, 672, were posted on cars which have not been registered.

Mrs. Smith said the greatest problem faced by those enforcing the parking plan has been the apprehension of drivers who violate parking rules. Usually those giving parking tickets have had to post them on empty cars as most drivers are students attending classes.

One member of the 1950 MSU football squad has been hired to locate the violators.

Those students who collect three or more tickets are sent to Prof. Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men, for disciplinary measures, Mrs. Smith said.

Bankhead Film Next Feature At Simpkins

"Lifeboat," starring Tallulah Bankhead, will be shown at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sunday in Simpkins hall by the University Film society, Virginia Bulen, film society manager, said.

Written by John Steinbeck and Jo Severling, "Lifeboat" is the story of a group of survivors from a ship sunk by a German U-boat. The survivors are a famous woman journalist, played by Miss Bankhead, a Red Cross nurse, an oiler from the ship's engine room, a millionaire manufacturer, a simple-minded woman with a new baby, the ship's radio operator, a colored hand, and the German U-boat captain.

Alfred Hitchcock directed the film. Among the other stars in "Lifeboat" are William Bendix, John Hodiak, and Canada Lee.

"Realism is rampant in the picture. In making it, some of the cast must have gotten wet," David Lardner said in a New Yorker review of the movie.

Time magazine said "Lifeboat" was "an adroit allegory of a world shipwrecked."

Lawyers Practice, Journalists Write

Journalism students will attend a practice court trial Monday night at 7 in the journalism auditorium. The mock trial, an annual undertaking by the journalism and law schools, will involve a personal injury action case.

J. C. Garlington, Missoula attorney, will preside as judge at the trial. Defense attorneys will be Dick Regan, Helena; Ben Forbes, Billings; and John McCutcheon, Steilacoom, Wash. Attorneys for the plaintiff will be Bob Holding, Missoula, and Dick Carstensen, Helena.

Journalism students will be on the jury.

"De Re Metallica," Bauer took the Latin translation of his name which is Agricola. Agricola was born in Glauchau, Saxony on March 24, 1494. By profession he was a physician but he devoted his spare time to studying mining, engineering, and making his own experiments. "De Re Metallica" was used as a mining text for two centuries. Before the Hoovers' translation it had lain dormant for 300 years.

Originally, Hoover intended the translation to be for private circulation only. A friend convinced him that the volume should sell at retail for one-fifth the cost of printing which is $5. Hoover has given many volumes to friends, libraries, museums, and mining schools as gifts.

Mrs. Nickel wrote information about this mining text and the Hoovers' translation of it in the June 1949 Canadian Mining and Metallurgical bulletin. She titled this "A Chained Book—Now Free to All."

Mrs. Nickel has also written an article in the Christian Science Monitor magazine section, July 24, 1948, about a Stanford library research consultant.

EDITORIAL

Constructive Suggestions

Yesterday several interesting comments appeared in the letters to the editor column. In fact, those comments were among the select few in the deluge of masterpieces on the financial quagmire that have constructive suggestions.

We are in particular agreement with two of the suggestions. It would be an excellent idea to publish all proposed budgets as well as the completed master plan for the ASMSU cashbox. There is also considerable merit in the proposal to levy a slight charge for admission to some campus activities.

The principal revelation, from our standpoint, in the flood of opinions on the financial situation has been the abysmal, campus-wide lack of knowledge of the exact manner in which ASMSU money matters are handled. More budget information might enlighten some individuals as to the exact channels through which allocation requests eventually reach Central board. It might reveal to some that budget percentages are not fixed for all time but are considered each spring and often vary considerably from year to year.

A nominal admission charge for certain activities might well ease some financial strain and would place more of the burden of support for these activities on those who display an active interest.

Most important, such measures might awaken a more direct and inquisitive interest in the ASMSU budget setup. That is the most pressing problem in the current money mess.—D.G.

Convention Tours

The Northwest Historical museum's displays today will feature items slanted toward the interests of the 100 delegates to the Montana home economics convention who will tour the exhibition rooms this afternoon.

General Mills' "Betty Crocker," may accompany the group. Miss Crocker, who in real life is Janette Kelley, formerly of Deer Lodge, and an MSC graduate, will be the convention's main speaker.

Among the items to be shown are old laces and linens, satin and silk brocades, antique fans, glassware, china, and hair jewelry. Period costumes, from the Walter McLeod collection, including some belonging to early Missoula families, will also be on display.

Mrs. Howard Bryan, the former Mitsue Myamoto of Tokyo, will display several Japanese articles at the museum this afternoon, including kimonos, bowls, and dolls that she brought from her homeland. She will also explain the "stories" illustrated by some of the museum's Japanese scroll paintings.

Mapmakers, until about 1860, labeled Kansas as part of the Great American desert, unsuitable for cultivation.

Frosh Journalists
To Edit Kaimin

Freshmen journalism majors will take over the editing of the Kaimin March 2. Bill Jones, Miles City, will take over Don Graff's editorial duties for the day.

Other members of the editorial staff are: Pat Schwarz, Missoula, who will be campus editor; Mary Lou Zimmerman, Billings, will be copy editor; Jim Larcombe, Malta, will be sports editor; and Bruce Blakesley, Forsyth, will be photo editor. Prof. E. B. Dugan, of the journalism school, will be advisor for the paper.

Jones was editor of his high school paper and plans to have a rather unorthodox front page on this edition of the Kaimin.

Karlin Resigns as Tennis Coach

Athletic Director "Cac" Hubbard has announced the resignation of Jules Karlin, tennis coach at Montana State University since 1946. Karlin's resignation is effective immediately, Hubbard stated.

Karlin is quitting his post as tennis coach primarily because of Montana's entrance into the Skyline Eight conference. Montana does not give scholarships or grants-in-aids to its tennis players as most other school in the conference do, and it is for this reason that we cannot compete on an equal basis with the schools, Karlin said on resigning.

Hubbard was informed when Montana first considered entering the Skyline Eight conference, that if we did so, Karlin would resign as tennis coach, as he considered this a step down in athletic circles rather than a progressive step.

At the present time, no replacement for Karlin has been named, and Athletic Director Hubbard stated a successor to the post may not be hired until the 1952 season. This year's captain, Bob Nogler, will handle the tennis team in the capacity of player-coach.

"I sincerely hope," Hubbard stated, "that the fine job Jules has done will carry us through the year until we can do something about a replacement." When Karlin first tendered his resignation, Hubbard refused to accept it, and only after repeated refusals to continue as tennis coach, did the athletic department reluctantly accept the resignation.

The Last Word

BY JOHN OWEN

By now, the news of the basketball fix involving two of the top teams in the nation is not new. The repercussions from this scandal will last for some time, however.

The avid sports fans in this country now feel betrayed and will no doubt continue to harbor such feelings for many months or even years. Not since the "Black Sox" baseball fix was uncovered has sporting news assumed so much importance in the eyes of the people.

I do not think, however, that basketball on a large scale is doomed as a result of these recent developments. Although much of the faith in this sport has been destroyed, fans will once more flock to the arenas when they are assured that the players are seeking points rather than dollars. Just as in the aforementioned "Black Sox" scandal, the fans' love of the sport will, in time, overshadow their disappointment.

A large share of the blame for the Manhattan and LIU fixes must go to the players, despite the many tear-jerking articles written in their defense. Although the nation-wide gambling syndicates and the over-emphasis of the sport tend to lead these athletic lambs to the slaughter, Junius Kellogg, Manhattan college center, proved, by refusing and reporting a bribe, that the paths of honesty were not closed to the players involved.

Whether it be on a large or small scale, there will probably always be gambling in this country. And, as long as there is gambling, there will always be "easy money" offered to stars in baseball, football, basketball, boxing and all of the popular spectator sports. We need not worry, however, as long as there are still players who value the sport more than monetary reward.

Grizzly Swimmers Meet Utah State

BY RAY SORUM

The Utah State Aggies arrive from Logan tomorrow to take on the Grizzlies in the last divisional conference swim meet of the season.

The Bears have blood in their eyes from the ducking they took from the Aggies at Logan Feb. 10 when they lost to them, 42 to 31.

Grizzly times have been trimmed considerably since the beginning of the season when the University of Utah dunked the Bears, 51 to 23. The Grizzlies bettered the MSU pool record for the 300-yard medley relay in the Utah meet at Logan two weeks ago. Pool record is 3:19.4; medley paddlers splashed it down to 3:16.5.

Team captain Bob Ziegler, Columbus, Ohio, who has twice broken the Skyline conference record in the 200-yard backstroke, may push it aside again tomorrow. His best mark was set two weeks ago at Salt Lake when he stroked a fast 2:26.5. Conference record was 2:27.0.

Ziegler Second Best

Ziegler has the second best time among 15 western colleges. His peer is Paul Sellin, Washington state, who batted it off in a streaking 2:21.3.

Swimming Coach Fred Erdhaus said he expects Ziegler and the medley relay team to set new records tomorrow, even though the Grizzlies may not take the meet.

Diver Rolfe Harmson, Bismarck, N. D., who has plunged off with wins in all three divisional meets, will be trying for another first place tomorrow.

Harpole, Jardine Improving

George Harpole, Arcadia, Calif., and John Jardine, Missoula, both hard swimmers whose times have been getting better with each meet, can be counted on to give the Utags a hard time again. Jardine has been a consistent second-placer in the 200-yard breast stroke and Harpole took the 440-yard distance run away from the Utags in the last meet.

Besides Ziegler and Jardine, Bob Cooney, San Diego, Calif.; Denzil Young, Baker; and Ronald Daniels, Missoula, will form the two relay teams: the three-man 300-yard medley, and the 400-yard four-man final event.

Sprint Entries

Cooney, Young, and Daniels will enter the 60 and 100-yard sprints. Pete Hammond, Los Angeles, Calif., will enter with Harpole in the distance events.

Harpole will hold down both distance hauls again, the 220 and 440-yard free style. Besides breast stroking in the 200-yard event, Jardine will dive with Harmsen.

Championship in March

An all-conference meet is scheduled for March 5 and 6 at the Aggie campus in Logan where conference schools will be pounding it out for the Skyline conference championship.

Tomorrow afternoon's meet will get underway at 2 o'clock in the men's gym pool. Admission is free.

Coach Bill Jeffrey's soccer team rolled up Penn State's only unbeaten record during the 1949-50 sports year.

Grizzlies, RM Bears Play In Last Home Floor Games

The Montana Grizzlies take on the Rocky Mountain college Bears tonight and tomorrow in the final home games of the 1950-51 season.

The Grizzlies will be shooting for victories 12 and 13, and are anxious to avenge an earlier defeat at the hands of the Bears. A revamped Grizzly team was downed for the first time in the athletic history of the two schools on the return trip from Denver.

Sparks Is Back

A bright note on the Silvertip horizon is the return of forward Jack Sparks to the line up. Sparks was injured two weeks ago in the first minute of play against Willamette university in Salem, and has been sidelined since. He will team up with Hasquet, Luckman, Lucas and Sherlock to form the starting line up.

Rocky Mountain last week cinched first place in the Montana small college conference by downing Eastern Montana, and by so doing, qualified for a place in the NAIB playoff tourney in Billings March 3 and 4. If the Montana State college Bobcats beat Idaho State college in Pocatello Friday, the Grizzlies will be assured of a spot in the tourney also. If the Bengals beat the Bobcats, the Grizzlies will have to win at least one in Bozeman.

Armitage, Chapman, and Mitchell are the big boys in the Bear line up, and control the boards very well. Chapman is probably the best and most consistent scorer on the squad while Fink and Rhodes are aggressive floor men and are also better than average scorers. Against the Grizzlies last season, Chapman took 19 shots and connected on 12 of them for a percentage of better than .630.

Ripke Leads Sigma Nu To I-M Win

Playoff time for the four top teams in leagues A and B in intramural basketball came closer to the wire Wednesday night when the Sigma Nus defeated the Independents, 41 to 34, the Sooners rambled by the Phi Sigs, 41 to 13, the Newman club beat the APO's, 32 to 17, and Jumbo took a 40-to-30 win from Corbin hall.

In the first game, Ripke, Sigma Nu center, tallied 24 points to lead his team to the 7-point victory. The Sigma Nus took an early lead, and kept ahead of the Independent five the entire game.

In other games played Wednesday night, Stewart, Sooner forward, hit the hoop for 11 counters, and Luoma made 10, to pace their team to the large-margin victory. In the Corbin-Jumbo game, Johnston, Jumbo hoopster, bucketed 16 points to pace his squad to their 10-point victory. Pinsoneault, Newman club forward, made 17 points to cop scoring honors in the fourth match of the night.

Written, Practical Tests Listed for BB Officiating

Written and practical tests for national ratings in officiating in women's basketball are being given in the women's gym this week.

To qualify for a national rating, a woman must be at least 20 years old and pass, with a grade of B, the written and practical tests sent out by National Section on Women's Athletics and given by a judge of the National Rating board.

Local and intramural ratings may also be earned by the women who take the tests but can not meet the requirements of the national rating. A grade between 86 and 80 must be earned in each test for a local rating and one between 80 and 76 for an intramural.

The women's basketball classes will compete in the games for the tests.

Margaret Dean Ask, Missoula; Norma Bell, Kalispell; and Beverly Madson, Billings, attained the national standard in the written test.

Jeanne Shreeve, Milltown, and Reba Turnquist, Ronan, received grades high enough for national ratings, but because of their age will be permitted to qualify only for local ratings.

Donna Bar, Coldstrip; Joan Beckwith, Kalispell; Irene Stritch, Missoula; Carol Fraser, Billings; Beryl Hanford, Kalispell; and Willa Rosean, Columbus; also qualified for local ratings on the written test.

Intramural ratings on the test were earned by Marjorie Anderson, Kalispell; Doris Stamp, Klein; and Genevieve Welch, St. Ignatius.

Larsen to Speak At SDX Banquet

Floyd Larsen, 1950 graduate of the journalism school, will be the guest speaker at the Sigma Delta Chi banquet Saturday night at the Steak House.

Larsen has been working on the Ravalli Republican at Hamilton since his graduation.

The formal banquet is in honor of the 13 new members who were recently initiated into the professional journalism fraternity. The banquet will start at 6 p.m., according to Gene Hayden, SDX president.

CANTERBURY CLUB MEETS

The Canterbury club will sponsor a party for all campus Episcopal students at 6 p.m. Sunday in the parish hall of the Church of the Holy Spirit. Supper will be served, and entertainment featuring Delores Lowry, Gamboa, C. Z., vocalist, and George Stone, Missoula, guitarist, will be presented.

Dean and Mrs. Theodore Smith and Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bennett will chaperon.

says, "the units have held up very well and there has not been too much expended on the maintenance end."

Probably the greatest trouble is encountered during the cold weather when the residents have trouble with frozen pipes in their units.

Administration and recreation facilities for the project are located in the community building. Square dances and movies are held regularly within the recreation hall at the center.

Rates Are Economical

The rental rates for the units range from $17 for a no-bedroom, two-room unit to $23 for a three-bedroom unit. The strip housing committee at its last meeting recommended that these rates be applied also to the student-occupied units recently acquired, but the measure is awaiting University President McFarland's approval. Higher rates prevail for those units available for non-student veterans.

Gordon Hamilton is acting as director in the absence of Robert W. Breen who is now taking a three-month staff officers training course in the army.

Alpha Phi Drops Semi-final Game

Sigma Kappa downed Alpha Phi 28 to 17 in the semi-finals of the consolation tournament in women's basketball yesterday.

Sigma Kappa came back strong in the second half, almost doubling their score while their guards kept the scoring of the Alpha Phi to a minimum.

Genevieve Welch, St. Ignatius, netted 13 points to cop scoring honors for the winners while Maxine Hightower, Missoula, made 14 for Alpha Phi.
